Taking Command of Your Security Needs

Problem/Solution

The Problem:

Security is of paramount concern from corporate headquarters and campuses to airports; warehouse and medical facilities; retail outlets, special events, college campuses, residential buildings and more.

Potential acts of terrorism, theft, fire, fraud, vandalism and other risks have become a daily reality. Operators of governmental, educational, commercial, industrial, retail, residential, healthcare, aviation and other facilities face an unprecedented challenge: To implement security processes and procedures that promote the safest possible environment, minimize disruption and reduce potential loss of life and assets.

Critical to meeting these challenges is the development and execution of a comprehensive facility security design as well as hiring appropriate staff and implementing essential technologies. However, this task is typically beyond the expertise of executive management, facility managers and event organizers. Additionally, the cost of developing a full-time, internal security program and appropriately staffing it is often beyond the reach of many organizations.

The Solution:

Command Security Corporation – the nation’s most trusted and experienced provider of affordable contract security services. Command brings more than 29 years of service and 6,000 highly trained personnel to this task. Our executive team brings a combined 200 years of expertise in high-level security positions for organizations including NASA, the US Army’s Military Police, the Royal Air Force, the US Secret Service, and numerous Fortune 1000 companies. Command has offices nationwide including operations at numerous major international airports. Command’s corporate divisions: 1) Security Services and 2) Aviation Safeguards specialize in providing complete, customized and cost-effective contract security solutions for businesses, institutions and organizations of all sizes.

Why Command?

Our Business is Protection...

Since its founding in 1980 as a regional security company, Command has grown to become one of the nation's leading and most trusted providers of contract security services. Today, Command has national locations and capabilities, as well as more than a quarter century of expertise in designing and implementing customized security solutions. Throughout our history, we have partnered with nearly every type of organization – from major corporations, medical campuses, international airports and regional shopping centers to event organizers, retail shops and residential buildings. We design 21st Century security solutions customized to meet specific security needs, issues and budgets.

Our Staff is Among the Most Highly Skilled in the Industry...

Command boasts a staff of more than 6,000 highly trained and skilled security personnel. We recognize that skill in the business of security not only means the difference between success and failure, but can also mean the difference between life and death. Accordingly, we are committed to ensuring that our staff not only meets all state and federal requirements for training, but also our own rigorous standards in specialized areas including terrorism response, CPR, first-aid, fire safety; crowd and riot control; media interaction; public relations; crisis management and emergency situations.

Our Equipment and Technology is Cutting Edge...

Command utilizes the security industry's latest technologies as well as equipment specifically designed to meet the challenges of 21st Century security. Our long-time partnerships with the industry's leading suppliers of innovative electronic systems and instruments ensure that our clients receive the most advanced and effective level of protection available. Additionally, sophisticated proprietary software systems ensure efficiency, accuracy and dependability in scheduling, payroll and billing functions.

How We Work:

Customized Security Solutions

Today, every organization faces unique security challenges and Command Security Corporation offers you unique, dependable solutions. We devote extensive time and resources toward understanding each client's specific security needs. As part of this process, we conduct a comprehensive assessment of the organization's security processes. The result: a customized security solution that is effective, adaptable and affordable.

Assessment

Our experts conduct a comprehensive on-site security assessment of current security processes (key controls, security force manning levels, personnel and vehicle identification, visitor controls, etc.), procedures (safety and emergency) and equipment (vehicles, electronic access controls, alarm systems, radio/surveillance systems, etc.). We also assess facility and environmental characteristics (perimeter controls and lighting), identifying potential breaches and vulnerabilities.

Custom Solution

After we thoroughly understand a client's needs, challenges, current security protocols, goals and budget, Command customizes a strategic security plan. Strategic security plans detail proposed strategies; personnel and staffing needs and equipment recommendations. We also provide a comprehensive budget and implementation strategy. Solutions are flexible, adaptable and engineered to meet client needs.

Management Team

Once the security solution has been approved, we handpick a management team. Our managers are career professionals with extensive backgrounds in contract security management, law enforcement and corporate security. They bring established relationships with the local law enforcement community; and work to adjust priorities to specific and changing client needs.

Operational Team

Our management team then identifies a staff of security officers and operational personnel. All personnel hired by Command meet the company's rigorous requirements for employment including: extensive training and experience, screening for drug and criminal history, comprehensive personal and professional reference checks, verification with previous employers, documentation review and face-to-face interviews.

Responsiveness & Accountability

Security plans must be reliable, flexible and adaptable. Recognizing this, Command builds feedback systems and ongoing communication into every client program. Quality and adaptability are ensured through: a 24-hour, 7-day manned dispatch unit that guarantees immediate response at all times; written, telephonic and electronic records of daily duties and events at all levels of supervision; monthly service reports by the clients themselves; unannounced site visits by management; and internal audits and confidential interviews by Command Security Corporation executives.

Serving Clients

through two Key Divisions

Security Services Division

Command's Security Services Division provides an array of contract security services including the design and implementation of customized security solutions as well as furnishing personnel to protect people and property. This division can access more than 6,000 armed and unarmed officers skilled in providing plant security, access control, personal security checks, traffic and parking control and protection against fire, theft, sabotage, and safety hazards. Additionally, Command's Security Services Division provides specialized vehicle patrol and inspection services.

Aviation Safeguards Division

Acquired by Command in 1995, Aviation Safeguards brings more than 29 years of proven expertise in providing a variety of aviation security and customer service functions including: security for airlines, aircraft, passengers and cargo; baggage screening, wheelchair and special escort services and skycap services. Today, Aviation Safeguards is the provider of security and related services for numerous major international airports and serves more than 100 of the world's major domestic and international airlines.
